

University of California, Santa Barbara
Program Learning Outcomes

B.F.A. in Theater – Acting Emphasis

Students graduating with a B.F.A. in Theater with an emphasis in Acting should be able to:

- Develop flexibility of body and voice, skill with language, and capacity to use their imaginations and creativity for performance. Develop a strong foundation in research and textual analysis of a script.
- Perform in a wide range of theatrical genres, from classical work to new plays, and demonstrate a strong knowledge of and experience with historical and contemporary playwrights.
- Display discipline and professionalism.
- Create and perform original work.
- Prepare for professional theater auditions.